

D. Moyer's Bio for BRC - 1/22/15

Dr. Moyer is an Assistant Professor in Michigan State University's Program In Public Health (College of Human Medicine) since 2009. He teaches and develops online graduate-level courses including the Public Health Risks from Counterfeit Pharmaceuticals. Dr. Moyer is also an adjunct instructor with MSU's Online Master of Science in Food Safety (College of Veterinary Medicine). There he develops course content and lectures such as Introduction to Food Safety, Food Safety Toxicology, Food Protection and Defense, and Global Food Safety. He also conducts research for MSU's Food Fraud Initiative and was recently published in Food Chemistry. The article entitled "Introducing Food Fraud including translation and interpretation to Russian, Korean, and Chinese languages" was co-authored with Dr. John Spink – Director of the Food Fraud Initiative, along with several other international authors.

Prior to returning to academia, Dr. Moyer worked in various positions at the Ford Motor Company for 25 years. He was the Global Packaging Engineering Manager at the Ford Customer Service Division for the last ten years of his career. He is also the founder and owner of Pack Edge LLC, a packaging management consulting company.

Dr. Moyer's research is published in several scholarly journals and he routinely contributes to various trade publications. He frequently presents at professional and academic conferences on topics including the various types of product frauds, risk awareness, assessment, and mitigation.

A full curriculum vitae is available upon request.